Renegade

Running Wild

Living fast you take it day by day One last chance to throw it all away

Mistrust is all you see in a world of hate

You know the reason why but way too lateIn his heart he knows that he won't fall But on the streets they're playing winner takes it allOne on one he's a renegade

Could tell his time was coming

Chasing the ace of life

One by one he will win again

Make no mistake this time

He's a renegadeRestless night, you wanna watch the dragon burn

Lives for knives, are you ever gonna learn?

You really wanna know if the needle ever lies

But you just don't believe it's the devil in disguiseIn his heart he knows that he won't fall But on the streets they're playing winner takes it allOne on one he's a renegade

Could tell his time was coming

Chasing the ace of life

One by one he will win again

Make no mistake this time

He's a renegadeSevere vein puncture sights

On the inner forearm with evidence of vein thrombosis

On both right and left sides

Rhinitis of the nasal passagesWith evidence of extreme laceration

Of inner membrane and mucus ducts

Symptoms of withdrawal obvious together with complaints

Complaints of visual hallucinations and extreme paranoiaOne on one he's a renegade

Could tell his time was coming

Chasing the ace of life

One by one he will win again

Make no mistake this time

He's a renegade, he's a renegade, renegade
