

Ache For You

Ben Lee

In the rain walking slowly
There's a light in your apartment
I don't know why, I ache for you And it's alright if you're undecided or
If you're scared that you might like it or
If it's true, I ache for you There's no rhyme and there's no reason
You're the secret in the back of my skull
There's no logic, so please believe me
Our love's confusing, but it never gets dull It's getting late anticipation
And if we talk communication
Then you'll know, I ache for you And yes sometimes it's just desire
Another problem there you really don't want
But anyway, I ache for you There's no rhyme and there's no reason
I know the secret in the back of my skull
There's no logic, so please believe me
Our love's confusing, but it never gets, it never gets dull
I ache for you, I ache for you And I'm tired of so much wanting
And what if, don't even think it but why not There's no rhyme and there's no reason
Put a secret in the back of my skull
(Back of my skull)
There's no logic so please believe me
Our love's confusing but it never gets dull
(It never gets dull) There's no rhyme and there's no reason
You're the secret in the back of my skull
(Back of my skull)
There's no logic so please believe me
Our love's confusing but it never gets dull
(Never gets dull) It never gets dull
(Never gets dull)
It never gets dull, I ache for you I ache for you
I ache for you
I ache for you
