

Might As Well

mosquitones

I might as well be cheating on you I do
I might as well be cheating on you Always knew that you would be Cheating on me finally
I never knew it'd be this soon
Didn't see it coming
Yesterday you let me down
The only friend I thought I found Sleepless nights, heart in two Baby who was kissing you
If this would have happened to me 10 years ago
I'd make sure that you'd be lying six feet underground
We little girls we grow up knowing love will find a way
So now we have an understanding, I can see why I Might as well be cheating on you
I might as well do all the things you do
I might as well have a little fun
Baby you inspire, it's the way we carry on Heavy steal is all you see that is what is left to me no remorse no dignity can we get any higher to every other happy fool Disloyalty will come for you lights go out, on your own so much pretending

Now, If this would have happened to me 10 years ago
I'd make sure that you'd be lying six feet underground
We little girls we grow up knowing love will find a way
So now we have an understanding, let's just rock' n' roll
I might as well be cheating on you
I might as well do all the things you do
I might as well have a little fun
Baby you inspire, it's the way we carry on, yeah yeah
Have you ever been in love before
And doesn't matter
'Cause nothing ever seems to be the way it should be

Tell me why won't you love me like the way you used to do
It might be worthwhile
So take a step back and ask yourself how
This is gonna last when it's all a lie
Hear me out
Swear to God that this is nothing now and don't forget
I might as well be cheating on you
I might as well do all the things you do
I might as well have a little fun
Baby you inspire, it's the way we carry on, yeah yeah
Yeah Yeah
Yeah Yeah
Oh Ohhhh
I might as well be cheating on you I do
I might as well be cheating on you I do
I might as well be cheating on you I do
I might as well be cheating on you I do

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>