Time Runs Out

John Frusciante

I didn't lose you

In those fights i fought

I don't owe anyone

I've been sleeping all night

These times i recall

They come out

They come clean

I've been asleep

On top of myself

I was born in the morning

I died at night

I was found in a mirror baby

They couldn't get me out

In these times time runs out

It runs out

Daydreams run along her

Feelings are goners

I've been sleeping

Once and for all

Mirrors are water

A symbol of what death is not

Catch my meaning

Once and for all

I'm the ceiling

I'm the wall

You can't stand inside with me

But the reverse of me is where you must be

In truths place is lies

The mistakes you try

Someone must be sleeping because all is quiet

Is there nothing in the mirror when you shut the light

The dark

The light

The dark

The light
