

Mountain People

Super Furry Animals

They don't care about
You and me
Obviously
No not us
We're the mountain people So far away from those Tree-lined streets
Look so neat
Not for us
No fat chance
We're the mountain people They'll seek us in the valley
They'll seek us on the plain
They own the milk and runny honey
And they're not quite the same
And we
Live together under Fantasy
Oak trees
In the dark
We make sparks
So unique
We're the mountain people Curiosity comes to Plead with me
Vanity
Strangles me
Pulls me
Shakes me down
We're the mountain people
They'll seek us in the valley
They'll seek us on the plain
They own the milk and runny honey
And they're not quite the same Because
They don't care about
You and me
Obviously
Hand-me-down
Culture
Waiting for the vulture
Yes, yes, yes
We're the mountain people Hibernation comes so early

This year
Dig the peat
Pile it high
Let it dry
One last chance at ignorance
No fat chance
We're the mountain people One short blast was Followed by
Two longer ones
Short blast
Long blast
Coming from the outcast
Put me in a deep freeze
And I'll sneeze
With the mountain people From a distance
I can see them
Pacing
(Marching)
Upstream
Slowly
Ruthlessly
And then
Steady
Nets and cages
Open
Ready
Long-term
Memory
Soothes me
Worry
Take me
Break me
Any way you fancy Deep freeze put me in it and I'll sneeze
A deep freeze put me in it and I'll sneeze
A deep freeze put me in it and I'll sneeze
A deep freeze put me in it (So I'll make history)
