

Sixes and Sevens

Revent

So you should settle down and enjoy what you have
Before you look in the mirror and just long for the past
When all you ever needed is right out your front door
See the politics and war, see the comedy and death
Thereâ€™s no fighting the truth cause we all know weâ€™re at risk
When all we ever needed to be free of the noose is take that step

Eluding us with every step when we should laugh
Never there in any moment
Why not hold on as long as we can
Till the end

Stay awake, just stay awake, just stay awake

And so you watched it burn, burned it all to the ground
Rather die in the sun than live a life underground
But whatâ€™s the point of speaking if you donâ€™t make a sound?
You can all but hide that youâ€™re all scared to death
Weâ€™re all looking for love but more in love with ourselves
Cause when you look to the sky do you ask it whatâ€™s next?

Eluding us with every step when we should laugh
Never there in any moment
Why not hold on as long as we can
Till the end

Please be quick
Please smile before the sky is torn
The pictures are fading
Engulfed in bleeding colors
Of the life I chose and all that could have been
Know I wonâ€™t say a word to make you hurt
No I wonâ€™t say a word

Eluding us with every step when we should laugh
Never there in any moment
Why not hold on as long as we can
Till the end
