

A While (Hidden Track)

Gabrielle Aplin

Well, it rains
Yeah! It rains
We can be someone forgiven
At least a some forgiven
With the strength
We never change Its the reason we're together
We're just waiting for the weather to part us I've been rolling my days away
And turn up the light that keeps me awake I've been trying to sleep for a while
There be nothing left to talk about
No one left to hear and a while we'll put water on these aches and this walls will disappear for a while, we've been coring the cold light of day
Lost are lost
You put it down
Someone for safe keep it to said you don't remember but it's okay makes some noise it's you the all I needed and all these books that we've been reading too long
I've been rolling my days away
And turn up the light that keeps me awake
I've been trying to sleep for a while
There be nothing left to talk about
No one left to hear and a while we'll put water on this aches and this walls will disappear
For a while, we've been coring the cold light of day
The cold light of day
I've been rolling my days away
And turn up the light that keeps me awake
I've been trying to sleep I've been trying to sleep for a while
There be nothing left to talk about
No one left to hear and a while we'll put water on this aches and this walls will disappear
For a while, we've been coring the cold light of day
