Tonight, I Love You

The Latency

Its a beautiful night and Im opened up
The look in your eyes says so much
Nothing can touch us out here
Dont know where we are but I know I see
A beautiful girl walking next to me
I need to hold you, my dearLets just take tonight, tonight slow
Cause I want to see where this, where this goes
I need youId give you today but its not mine yet
Ill ask you to stay here with me till then
I think Im falling for you
(falling for you, I need you)
I just want to look in your eyes and see
All that you have looking back at me
I think tonight, I love you
(I love you)Tell me the chance hasnt passed us by Cause baby, the stars have never shined so bright
Nothing can stop us out hereLets just take tonight, tonight slow
I want to see where this, where this goes
I need youId give you today but its not mine yet
Ill ask you to stay here with me till then
I think Im falling for you
(falling for you, I need you)
I just want to look in your eyes and see
All that you have looking back at me
I think tonight, I love you
(I love you) I love youId give you today but its not mine yet
I love youId give you today but its not mine yet
Ill ask you to stay here with me till then
I think Im falling for you
(falling for you)
I just want to look in your eyes and see
All that you have looking back at me
I think tonight, I love you
(I love you) I love youJust breathe in, Youll be fine
Im right here by your side
(I love you)
Just breathe in, Youll be fine
(I love you)Id give you today but its not mine yet
Ill ask you to stay here with me till then

I think tonight, I love you
