The Turning

Symphony X

Lurking out of sight
Night shall fall and feed my frenzy
Beneath an eerie moon a change comes over meEyes glow by candlelight
A face divided in the mirror
My psyche ripped by daggers of my alchemySide by side with myself again
As midnight's curse descends on trembling handsOh, save my soul
Losing control when the bells tollSavage on the prowl
In the lamplight's glow, nocturnal
My breath hangs like ghosts in the evening airThis ill effect, a vile creation
Of my design, abomination
The madness rages on and onSide by side with myself again
As midnight's curse descends on trembling handsOh, save my soul
Losing control when the bells toll
Oh, feed my soul
I'm in control when the bells toll
