Over the Weekend

Nite Jewel

You tried hard to listen over the weekend but you didn't hear anything your blue eyes were piercing over the weekend you you could see into meyou had me waiting i lie meditating and your image would enter me i will confess i'm holding my breath and you tell me that i should breatheit's not a long way before you're out it's not a long road to roam about you took a ride but it's over now it's over nowwere you the master you had me run after you no one ever sent for me i'm feeling weak and i'm here receding your shadow is all i see
