

Autumnal Reaper (Studio Rehearsal, April 1994)

Marduk

The coldest winds embrace the lands
Awakened from its ancient slumber
By a circle of sleepless eyes Autumn reaper, dress me in ice
Let my blood freeze in your eyes Towards a dark sky, monolith points
Created by unknown hands in a darker age
The three bow for this wind, the cursed
That will live on forever The winds of autumn cold and loud
Dressed in ice it dies, the life
Standing as frozen shadows
Under flickering stars
Autumn reaper dress me in ice
Let my blood freeze in your eyes
