

3 Cheers for the Easy Life

Deaf Havana

It's only twenty hours ahead
But I'd rather be at home instead
I'll act as if I'm older and wiser
And it's not like I could ever lie to her
When she damn knew it wasn't true

With a face that's turning a certain shade of blue

You know I've spent so long from saving you from tears
It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile
You know nothing can bring back these twenty years
It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile

And we still love each other tonight

Now she's forever dead and gone
But I'll always be remembering her song
And her lungs can no longer hold her heavy heart
But one more smile would have been a good start

With a face that's turing a certain shade of blue

You know I've spent so long from saving you from tears
It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile
You know nothing can bring back these twenty years
It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile

And she still said, "I'll be forever whispering in your ear,"
Another gentle lie, of this is not the sun

We all sat down and we all sang
We'll keep this alive until we die

We all sat down and we all sang
We'll keep this alive until we die

You know I've spent so long from saving you from tears
It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile
You know nothing can bring back these twenty years

It's gotten far too easy to fake that smile

We'll keep this alive...
