Billingsgate

All made clear in the duality of time
The things I feel now
I never thought I'd find
I wonder if our future
Was written in our past
I was your first taste
Would you be my lastMy world was split in two
I had to prove
I didn't think
I didn't know
I could do it without you
Do it without youVision beyond the frame
Lost in the rules we made to our own game
I'd drop myself through black holes
To wind up at this door
I wouldn't have asked
If I didn't believe it wasn't worth fighting forMy world was split in two
I had to prove
I didn't think
I didn't know
I could do it without you
Do it without youWe built a path
Where we reigned supreme
I had to prove
I didn't think
I didn't know I could do it without you
Do it without youNo trace of wear
Now fully realized as fear
To destroy is to deny what maybe you once felt inside
Skin crawls veins fill with lead
Terror hunts and release spreadsMy world was split in two
I had to prove
I didn't think
I didn't know
I could do it without you
Do it without you
We built a path
Where we reigned supreme
I had to prove

I didn't think
I didn't know I could do it without you
Do it without you
