Left Behind

Blacklite District

Oh, open the curtain, let some light in I feel so gray
World got smashed to pieces and put back together the wrong way
Why you leaving me now, there must be some doubt in your mind?
Can't you open your heart, don't wanna be left behind?
Oh open the window let some air in I feel so old
There, where we were happy long ago yesterday
And why you leaving me now, there must be some doubt in your mind?
Can't you open your heart, don't wanna be left behind?
You open your mouth, you open your mouth and I know
You open your mouth and I know what you're gonna say
Oh, open the curtain, let some light in I feel so gray
Why you leaving me now, there must be some doubt in your mind?
Can't you open your heart, don't wanna be left behind?
Why you leaving me now, there must be some doubt in your mind?
Can't you open your heart, don't wanna be left behind?
You open your mouth, yeah, you open your mouth and I know
You open your mouth and I know what you're gonna say
Oh, oh
