

Everything

Quincy Jones

What would i give to hold you once again
What would i give to make this loneliness end
If i could bring you back
Back to where this love once lived
What would i give?
Everything

What would i do for one more precious moment with you
What would it take to make your heart hear the truth
To ease our pain i caused
Make up for the time i lost with you
What would i do?
Anything

Are you doing all right?
Have you found a life apart from me?
As it bring(s) you happiness
I don't want to know about it
'cause night after night i try to fight the emptiness
In this quiet room
Life goes on without you

Where would i go
If only you would ask me to
No road is too long if it would lead me back to you
Somehow i found a way
If you called to say that you need me there
Where would i go?
Anywhere

Are you doing all right?
Have you found a life apart from me?
For now i must confess
That i don't want to talk about it
'cause night after night i try to fight the emptiness
In this silent room
There's no peace without you

What would i give to hear you say you love me again
What would it take to make this loneliness end

If i could bring you back
Back to where this love once lived
What would i give?
Everything

What would i do?
Anything

What would i give? oh...
Everything
