Going Home

Sugar

Going home, where to go
Where the whole thing started
And you know
Going back won't be fun foreverAs you go, hasn't been forever
Going home, leaving home foreverFace the door start to crawl
Like you were a baby
Going home to a home you left
And vowed you'd never beGoing home, this was for someone else
Time to go, you can't stay here any moreFind some things from the past
That you thought were missing
Pack them up as you go back
To the life you're leading nowGoing home, I can't stay forever
Got to go, back to where I came fromI don't know where to go
With so few possessions
They stay home as I go back
To where I came from
