One Hundred Percent

The Forecast

Giving into the comforts of an empty room
So afraid of losing all the faith I have in you
Starlight will guide us home under the dark sky
So wait for meI confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of me
I confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of meSmoke is rising faster and we'll fall behind
Wait this out with me
Slowly crawling back to what we left behind
Waiting now we're wastedI confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of me
I confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of meAnd in my head I feel undressed
I'm hanging by a threadLocked down, shut out and your smile's
Just throwing fuel on the fire
Locked down, shut out and your smile's
Just throwing fuel on the fireLocked down, shut out and your smile's
Just throwing fuel on the fire
Locked down, shut out and your smile's
Just throwing fuel on the fireI confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of me
I confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of meI confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of me
I confess as soon as we met
I gave you my best, one hundred percent of me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/