Feels Like Home

Newton Faulkner

I know it's gonna take some time
For you to feel that it's all right
And I'd making people choose a side
But I don't mind
You trying to get some people on yours
And know that it takes some time
But I must try
I just want you to understandWhen things don't feel right
And you know deep inside
It breaks your heart
But you must get out
And I know you're gonna be all right
And I know you're gonna find your way
And I hope your future's bright
But I hate the way it feels inside
But all I wanna do is make it through to the other side
I know I don't wanna know why
You just can't let this go
But I must try
I just want you to understandThat is feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
And know I broke out
And it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
And know I broke out, yeahOh, ohAnd I owe it all
To this fall
Yes I owe it all
To this fall
And I just want you to understandThat is feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
And know I broke out
And it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
And know I broke out

I broke out
