Losing My Touch

October Drift

I think I'm losing my touch
In thin October sunlight I don't care too much
I think I'm losing my love
In thin October sunlight, brush strokes from above

They say there's a silver line
I'm silver all the time
There's nothing here for me now
Fall back down with the rain
I'm silver all the same
Nothing's here for me now

I think I'm wasting my breath
With a southern sunset backdrop we can dance with death
I think I'm wasting my (???)
With a southern sunset backdrop all washed out in red

They say there's a silver line
I'm silver all the time
There's nothing here for me now
Fall back down with the rain
I'm silver all the same
Nothing's here for me now

You open up at night
Right before my eyes
Early morning (???)
We (???)
