Gone

Cavo

You won't have to sleep in the beds that you made you will have to live in your dreams now you won't have to wait for the silent parade you won't have to feel torn apart now you won't have to love just for the sake you won't have to play in the game now it's never enough just to be remembered it's always the look on their faces no one wastes this moment cause I won't live forever but I tried waiting on a soul to save me but if I wait too long, you might take forever to find my way back home you never wasted breath on me to tell me you were leavin'
now your gone
you won't have to feel like another mistake you won't have to make an excuse now

it's never enough just to be remembered it's always the look on their face now
no one wastes this moment
cause I won't live forever
but I tried waiting on a soul to save me
but if I wait too long, you might take forever
to find my way back home
you never wasted breath on me
to tell me you were leavin'
now your gone
now your gone
no one wastes this moment
no one wastes this moment
but I tried waiting on a soul to save me
but if I wait too long, you might take forever
to find my way back home
you never wasted breath on me
to tell me you were leavin'
tell me you were leavin'
now your gone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/