

Red Skies

Jungle Rot

I know a thousand ways to kill a weak man's heart - and I know a thousand more to tear your life apart
- I'll take your child, your home, and everything you know - all lives I touch are mine, the lowest of the low - I light a thousand fires, black death at my command - I challenge all that hail this god forsaken land
- those who oppose me, now in my control - red skies and hollowed eyes, everyone will know
- there is no chance for you to run
- I'll leave you nude in the desert sun - I form a river of human blood - like pigs you'll lie in the deep red mud - you are now my army, like mummies cast in sand - rise up, cracked and bleeding, do as I command - creatures born of bloody mud, copulating stone
- all hail these hideous forms, wrought by my hand - cities built of human bone
- tarps of skin and human flesh
- harboring disease and waste - salty, bloody taste.
