CHALI

Yo, this is a lesson in friendship
The depths of a kinship
Where women and men begin with, and then slip
My pen drips as I scribble my thoughts
On thin strips of emotion
A fraction, seduction, attraction,
Eruption of passion corrupts it
Life lasting friendships involved
Would love to cross the line
But that's why we built these walls

CHORUS (Akil)
We've been friends for a long time

A very close friend of mine

Love you like you was mine

But respect the thin line

Love you like you was mine

Think about you all the time

Very close friend of mine

But respect the thin line

AKIL
Opposites attract

When the female and male come in contact

Sticky situation in fact

Trying not to let the feelings catch

But there's a thin line between both of ya'll

So you respect that

And entertain an idea but get brought

Back to reality

And could you really live with that

Decision, based on intuition

You love and keep it distant

Hug and kiss the friendship

MARC 7
An ongoing friendship

We was people to begin with

Disrespect was not intended

But your feelings sparked a sentence

Sometimes you're too intense

In your quest to invent

The perfect man

Please understand my rhyme is your repent
CHORUS (Akil/Nelly) X2

SOUP

Too bad that we became friends first
And I'm not an expert on how relationships work
But, from the minute it was known
It changed the whole tone
The way we spoke on the phone
Yo, it was cool but I felt it wasn't enough
And I was stuck when your moms would pick it up
Over you all my buddies would swoon
But I felt we were in tune
You let me up in your room (damn)
But to me girl you're still off limits
No matter all the times that I hinted
Infatuation was authentic
But yo I just pretended
So I wouldn't lose the friendship
Maybe I should spill all my guts
Or write a letter, then tear it up
Or do a song just to say what's up
I want just a touchCHORUSNELLY
I can't do this anymore
See my heart just falls out when you walk in the door
Friendship turned into love
On some weak tip
See I can't comprehend even if I knew it
Can't do justice with these things that I'm feeling
You've got someone else don't want to be caught stealing
Hell, if she knew she would never leave us alone in the roomCHALI
Yo, this was a lesson in friendship
I stress in this sentence
Should women and men be friends first
And then slip
My pen drips as I scribble my thoughts on thin strips of emotionAKIL
Opposites attract
And best friends make a perfect match
If you only knew that
Once you cross ain't no turning back
The minute you let him in it and he hit that
That's thatMARC 7
We was people to begin with
But you was too relentless
Jeopardizing kinship
Respect is intended
Resolve is my intent
While we've got an in

I'm trying to salvage a friendshipCHORUS
