Truth

Still Life

This sky is green, this grass is blue. I'll paint this picture and give it all to you. When I'm here I feel so free, it's cold out there. Why can't you believe? It's true, so true. My words fall down. It's true, I need you. Looking past what I believe. Break this silence it brought me to my knees. I'll break past what I've been shown. Now I see that I've finally found a home. Shining star from yesterday fell to the ground, faded away. Look to the sky to understand. I've got my grip, but I've lost my hand. It's true. Take a look inside, I can see what's real. Let loose my pride. Open up my world. In this place of peace, I can understand. Will you look at me, will you take my

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/