Heavy Lies

Neck Deep

What goes through your head
Yeah my thoughts never stop
I'm hanging by a thread
It's too late she said
And no I don't believe
Things are always as they seem
You proved this to me
Forget the theoryI've heard some heavy lies
So say you're true
And take off your disguise
Cause I want you
And here it goes again
We're softly spoken
My skin and your fingertips
Your lonely lips start to twist
We're talking of our deepest fears
It's like we don't exist
We don't exist to the world outside
Baby there's a world inside your room tonight
And it's yours and mine
The sun goes down
But we stay up all nightI've heard some heavy lies
So say you're true
And take off your disguise
Cause I want you
We don't exist to the world outside
Baby there's a world inside your room tonight
And it's yours and mine
The sun goes down
But we stay up all nightAnd I just can't ignore
Several weeks of back and forth
And I've not said this before
But I'm saying it now
You're better off with meAnd I've heard some heavy lies
So say you're true
And take off your disguise
Cause I want youCause I want you
And I've heard some heavy lies
So say you're true

And I've heard some heavy lies
Like I love you
