

Hooidge

All

We can try to forget We can try to walk away Sometimes the more things change And it won't ever go away But that feelings there The more they stay the same And I know life's O.K. When I see you again Now the fears are gone As life goes by You didn't see that band Don't look back and wonder why Or kiss that girl and hold her hand Go have some fun We've only just begun When I feel it again You've gotta live life now While you got it in your hand You go away The sky goes grey And starts to cry And so do I Could turn it back to blue But you
