

Black Eunuch

Algiers

We are all walking in the dark with the scissors in our hand
We are there when you fall apart when there's no one in your bed
We are all walking in the dark with the scissors in our hand
We are there when you fall apart when there's no one in your bed
She said, "Please keep your smile away so we can still be friends"
I'm standing single file
While sex melts in my hand
Desiring other things
That other eyes in other rooms desire
They pay her with their diamond rings
Then she has me wait outside
Then they come crawling out
So, how dare you smile so sweet?
And how dare you speak so soft?
No, don't try to undress me
No, nobody else at all
Nobody else at all
Nobody else at all.
