

Eagle and the Owl

Wendy Waldman

Brother who would fly, chose the name eagle
Rode up to the sun but it shot you down
Face beneath the hat brim, but I can't see you
Where's the man who once could buy the town?
Aah, buy the town. Cowboy you got mad, picked up your rifle
Went down to the woods just to shoot awhile
Cried about a sparrow but that didn't heal you
Where's the place a man can catch a smile?
Ohoh, catch a smile Til you walk brother eagle, the owl flies at night
There's a lotta things he's found out in his flight
A lonely sorta man but his path is true
Be a brother to the owl, hear him calling to you. Whoa ho brother eagle the owl flies at night
There's a lotta things he's found out in his flight
A lonely sorta man but his path is true
Be a brother to the owl, hear him calling to you. Wolf on the loose, sands are draining
Restless in the hills I hear a lonely owl
Whee hoo, sands have moved along, but you're still running
Come and be a brother to the owl
Whooho to the owl Whoa ho brother eagle the owl flies at night
There's a lotta things he's found out in his flight
A lonely sorta man but his path is true
Be a brother to the owl, hear him calling to you.
