Return to the Living

Blitzkid

I could keep you here with me inside this crowded tomb.
though such a pretty girl dont deserve to become worm food.
i could hold you here forever with these cold and scaly arms i swear id never hurt you or leave any visible scars.no time like tonite for me to die. return to the light. youll always be in mind. in the midst of my evil sights.i want to learn your body and feel your heart within.use that hot blood of yours to warm up my icy skin.cold hands dont always mean a broke and unforgiving heart. ive gotta let you go and babe it tears my soul apart.chorus.no better time than tonite for me to die and leave you behind. youre my one thing worth giving so tonite,return to the living.
