Day After Day

Dead Moon

Day after day we threw our cares away
Waiting for tomorrow, never living for today
We lined up in the trenches, holding higher ground
We looked away for answers but nothing could be found(chorus)
And I swear, we won't keep standing still
Here to take your heat
The rain's about to fall
We're taking to the streetsDay after day nothing ever changed
Was it any wonder we all began to stray
Some of us for money, some of us for fame
Our goals were so impossible no one could take aimDay after day the hours wore away
Regretting what we'd missed, closer to the grave
We're the broken generation, we don't know who we are Fought for every losing cause and now we hide the scars
