Back Where We Started

The Twang

I forgot what I was even thinking then
I been talking so much nonsense
And the way in which you left me
Made me think we don't even make senseAnd I would of called you back and that I tried but the words they didn't come out
So I guess I think it's best we just leave it thereOh, that don't surprise me not for one second, baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And if the answers maybe I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we startedI wouldn't of even thought our paths would of crossed
In fact it seems our friendships cheatingAnd we've just been caught in the act
And after spillages and stolen snouts
It suddenly dawned upon me
That it ain't like this and we don't make sense
In fact your nothing like meOh, that don't surprise me, not for one second, baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And if the answers maybe I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we startedCan we forget tonight and go back where we started?
