

Player One (Live at Assembly Summer '11)

Machinae Supremacy

A misfit to this space no religion no real place I grow weary of these walls so tired of it all Dull gray and endless days here where evil has no face It is hidden from my eyes unseen or in disguise Welcome to a world where you always get the girl You may lose a fight or two but you'll win if you get through Face up and challenge all you ever knew since you could crawl Always looking somewhere else when it's all inside yourself I wanna play until I die don't wanna lose my reasons why I race towards the sky in a world that never ends I keep coming back for more keep coming back until I score always stronger than before in a world that never ends now I feel like that again! Tomorrow I will be here, and I won't be the only one.
Our dreams will always adhere to a world beyond this one
