When Will I Get Over You (Getting Over Me)

Nikki Cleary

When will I begin to forget the way you used to smile
And make the world make sense
Laying in your arms used to be the Place where I felt heaven holding on to me
What I wouldn't give to be there right now
I can't seem to shake watching my heart walk outWhen the sun decides to set in the east
That'll be when I'm over you getting over me
When the steepest mountain falls into the sea
Only then will I be over you getting over meEmotionless you told me goodbye
And even to this day I'm really not sure why
I never thought that perfect could end
Maybe my perceptions blinded me again
Words we didn't say are what haunt me now
Happy ever afters the page you ripped outWhen the sun decides to set in the east
That'll be when I'm over you getting over me
When the steepest mountain falls into the sea
Only then will I be over you getting over meWas I guilty of caring too much
Did my constant devotion scare you away
When I close my eyes I dream the same dream
That we stayed in love and you're holding meWhen the sun decides to set in the east
That'll be when I'm over you getting over me
When the steepest mountain falls into the sea
Only then will I be over you getting over meWhen the sun decides to set in the east
That'll be when I'm over you getting over me
When the steepest mountain falls into the sea
Only then will I be over you getting over meWhen the sun decides to set in the east
That'll be when I'm over you getting over me
When the steepest mountain falls into the sea
Only then will I be over you getting over me
