Standing On My Own Again

Graham Coxon

Standing on the shore watching our ship go down
Sinking in the sand and I can't turn around Future's looking black and it's a sight to see
Just a thousand grey waves crashing over me
Just a thousand grey waves breaking over meNow it's happening to me
Why can't I ever see?
Am I gonna let you leave without a sound?
Watching 'til you're out of sight
Dreaming I did something right
Standing on my own againWater in my lungs and it's a pain to breathe
Salt is in my eyes and it's a pain to see
I can't stand the pressure though you think I can Just don't wanna see it going down the pan
Just don't wanna see it going down the panNow it's happening to me
Why can't I ever see?
Am I gonna let you leave without a sound?
Pushing you to your wit's end
Guess I'm gonna lose a friend
Standing on my own againNow it's happening to me
Why can't I ever see?
Am I gonna let you leave without a sound?
Watching 'til you're out of sight
Dreaming I did something right
Standing on my own again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/