Hangnail

What will it take to open their eyes
To the crimes that they legally do?
Those man-made laws don't mean a thingHow can they justify what they've done?
Justification is not in their hands
Innocent lives will be lostDid you even have a name
Or could you've been like me the same?
I was wondering, they think of you
Or try to keep you from their minds?What will it take to open their eyes
To the crimes that they legally do?
Those man-made laws don't mean a thingHow can they justify what they've done?
Justification is not in their hands
Innocent lives will be lostIt seems too easy, unwanted baby
It could be just thrown away
A life so helpless counted as useless
Another victim of mankindWhat will it take to open their eyes
To the crimes that they legally do?
Those man-made laws don't mean a thing
