Look Both Ways

Company Of Thieves

Karen went to the store, but she forgot her pearls
Tried to pawn off with charm, scheming skilled little girlAll the children, they all know where all the naughty little children go when they start to growFor so long you've buckled under a watchful eye
Never feel alive until you are risking your life
Risking your life, you're right
Lucky pinned to the fence, I was digging in my pocket
For the change that I had left, had won it in the schoolyardAll the children, they all know where all the naughty little children go when they start to growFor so long you've buckled under a watchful eye
Never feel alive until you are risking your life
Risking your life, you're RightLook left, look right. Look both ways before you.
Look left, look right. Look both ways!Making a mess just to clean it up later
Looking on forward to the Sunday paper
Making a mess---Oh ooh oh, ooh oh, ooh oh oh oh oh, ooh oh ohFor so long you've buckled under a watchful eye
And you never feel alive until you are risking your life, butAll the children, they've been told where all the naughty little children go when they all start to growOh ooh oh, yes they will grow
