

Same Life Different Worlds

Lucina

The world you're in, it might be different to mine
While you keep strolling on, I've got a mountain to climb
I've got some miles behind me, with nothing but some time
But don't look back, it's in the past I've drawn a line I can feel you don't know, what to do, where to go
If only I could show you how then I won't walk alone ooh oh oh If you could only see the road in front of me
Same life different worlds
When it goes up, and it comes down, when you're standing on solid ground
Same life different worlds
Same life different worlds Sometimes I slip and fall, get knocked down to the floor
It's bound to happen every now then like it always has before I can feel you don't know, what to do, where to go
If only I could show you how then I won't walk alone ooh oh oh If you could only see the road in front of me
Same life different worlds
When it goes up, and it comes down, when you're standing on solid ground
Same life different worlds
Same life different worlds I only wish that I, wish that I wish that I only wish you'd be here with me
I only wish that I, wish that I wish that
I only wish you could see If you could only see the road in front of me
Same life different worlds
When it goes up, and it comes down, when you're standing on solid ground
Same life different worlds
Same life different worlds
