

Goodpeople

Widespread Panic

We are the good people your friends told you all about
Sure it is, to watch it is, the night before the rising sun
Barefoot, ships in the sea, I'll give them drinking on the shore
If you can find the voice, hear them singing thrills my soul
Louder and louder I feel the thunder roar
Faster and faster I feel the engines burn
Brighter and brighter I see the lightning flash
Closer and closer here are your waters so drink and be home again
The machines that make their rounds, don't care if they ever see the dawn
I will have peace like a river, wait up winter's gone
You weak and wounded, and sick and sore
Like the women at the Well, I hear them singing thrills my soul
Louder and louder I feel the thunder roar
Faster and faster I feel the engines burn
Brighter and Brighter I see the lightning flash
Closer and closer here are your waters so drink and be home again
We are the good people your friends told you all about
One touch of nature digs your whole world again
Louder and louder I feel the thunder roar
Faster and faster I feel the engines burn
Brighter and brighter I see the lightning flash
Closer and closer here are your waters so drink
Here are your waters let's drink
Here are your waters so let's drink and be home again
Again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>