Back to Reality

Back to reality

In the corner of your soul it glows.. nothing on the outside that shows..
The reality.. back to reality..

It would never go back to what it was..
You could never set back the major cause..
The reality.. back to reality..

You should never look back.. facing reality
We should never go back, get stuck in reality..
We should never dig deep, get high on reality, get high on reality..

If you take a life then you want get it back.. if you take a life..
If you take a life then you want get it back.. if you take a life..
