All in All

Wayne

Waiting at the door for some kind of life
But you never step outside
'Cause the fears you fight can turn the day to nightBut only in your head
And you say you're the only one that knows
Well, I don't give in to that nobody but me stuffI know where you go when you're down
(All in all it's the same old thing)
(Float around until you get pulled in)
That place where falling stars tear up the ground
(Gather it up and we leave it behind
(For someone else to see)
And pace aroundTake it as it comes, you take it when you want
But don't waste a fight if it doesn't feel right
But dear God don't give upKisses on your hand
And slaps on your face is part of life
Everybody gets there share of both, loveI know where you go when you're down
(All in all it's the same old thing)
(Float around until you get pulled in)
That place where falling stars tear up the ground
(Gather it up and we leave it behind)
(For someone else to see)I know where you go when you're down
(All in all it's the same old thing)
(Float around until you get pulled in)
That place where falling stars tear up the ground
(Gather it up and we leave it behind
(For someone else to see)
And pace around
