Everything's Changing Today

The Futureheads

You say the same things every night
To the same face every night
You wear the same clothes every night
To the same place every night
We're looking forward, never looking back
We're headed down a one way track
One for sorrow, two for joy
We're going out tonight
We're going out tonight
We're going out tonight
Every thing's changing today
Getting further and further away
State you're in, sink or swim
Plans you've made, plans you've made
We've never made a difference
But tonight it will be different
It opened up in front of us
And it can change for every one of us
I'll take a look into your private life
I'll take a look and I will make it mine
With the excitement of a child
We're going out tonight
We're going out tonight
We're going out tonight
Every thing's changing today
Getting further and further away
State you're in, sink or swim
Plans you've made, plans you've made
And you know that it's easy
To get lost in these dark places
And you know that it's easy
To get lost in these dark places
But you never ever know
Never ever know what you might find
Every thing's changing today
Getting further and further away
State you're in, sink or swim
Plans you've made, plans you've made

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/