Obvious

Awa

There's no reason or explanation
(Got the same look upon your face..)
But your eyes are somehow out of placeGet a grip on the situation
It's the same words upon your tongue
But they seem to come out wrong..There's a cold wind, blowin', we've got no resistance
You hold me, closely, but there's still a distanceWith every little word we speak, with every little touch I see
That everything that's all you need, are fragments of what used to be..
It's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious. We should end it before it hurts...I'm not sayin' it wasn't worth while, it was all I ever wanted.
You were all I ever wanted.
I'm not saying we weren't in love, but the more we got involved the more we seemed to dissolve.There's a cold wind, blowin', we've got no resistance
You hold me, closely, but there's still a distanceWith every little word we speak, with every little touch I see
That everything that's all you need, are fragments of what used to be..
It's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious, it's oh-oh-obvious. We should end it before it hurts...We should end before it hurts.. x2There's a cold wind, blowin', we've got no resistance
You hold me, closely, but there's still a distance!
With every little word we speak, with every little touch I see
That everything that's all you need, are fragments of what used to be..
It's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious.
We should end it before it hurts...With every little word we speak, with every little touch I see
That everything that's all you need, are fragments of what used to be..
It's so oh-oh-Obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious, it's so oh-oh-obvious. We should end it before it hurts... x2We should end it before it hurts...
