She Already Knows

Erick Willis

She takes me by the hand
She leads me to the floor
We close are eyes spinning around till
We can spin no more
And Her head real tight against my chest
She knows that I won't let her go.
And I tell her I love her
She already knows.

Years gone by see her down the road with another man.
My heart skips a beat as she takes him by the hand
And I remember how it feels to see them out there swaying to and fro
And I tell her I miss her
She already knows.

She already knows
Don't have to tell her
She can see it in my eyes
And I don't know what I got to do to make her realize
She already knows
Where I want to take her
She already knows
Nobody can make her.

She already knows
She already knows

Get a Letter in the mail
Since she's gone and being bright
Watch the letter burn as a tear leaves my eye
And May god bless her and keep her and follow her where ever she goes.
And I tell her I love her
She already knows.

She already knows
Don't have to tell her
She can see it in my eyes
And I don't know what I got to do to make her realize
She already knows

Where I want to take her
She already knows
Nobody can make her.

She already knows
She already knows

She takes me by the hand
She leads me to the floor
We close are eyes spin around till
We can spin no more

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/