Warrior

Amber

We suffer silently, always fighting to break free.We were living in a shadow.
We were too scared to let go.
Wouldn't accept defeat.When by losing we were winning.
We have to be courageous to be able to get through this.
And then it hits.Break through the silence
The noise is louder than its ever been
Create something timeless
Never look back
The past is the past
I had no choice but to become a
Warrior
I had to conquer
I did not break, I left my faith in hopeWe are not the enemy,
We're just tired of suffering.We broke through the shadows
We finally let go it was not defeat
it was us truly winning
We were courageous and we got through this.
And then it hits.Break through the silence
The noise is louder than its ever been
Create something timeless
Never look back
The past is the past
I had no choice but to become a
Warrior
I had to conquer
I did not break, I left my faith in hopeI'm a warrior, I will conquer
I'm a warrior, I will conquer
I'm a warrior!
