Shallow Water

Randy Travis

I will not drown in shallow water
Not with your love within my reach
I did not come this far to falter
And will not rest until I'm freeYou are the sun, you are the flower
You are the wind across the sea
And I will kneel here at your altar
And pray you'll take my soul to keepOh, precious one, you are the mountain
You are the earth beneath my feet
In you we're one now and forever
In you I find the love in meThrough your love my eyes are open
Through your love I'll learn to see
And in your name my bread is broken
By your grace I'll rest in peaceI will not drown in shallow water
Not with your love within my reach
I did not come this far to falter
And will not rest until I'm freeThrough your love my eyes are open
Through your love I'll learn to see
And in your name my bread is broken
By your grace I'll rest in peaceI will not drown in shallow water
Not with your love within my reach
I did not come this far to falter
And will not rest until I'm freeI will not rest until I'm free
Until I'm free
