Saying It Now

Skindred

Tell them that you love them while they're here
Tell them while you got the chance
Always thought that you'd be here
I never imagined a world without you
I put of what i could do today
And said that i'll go see you tomorrow
But It's too late now coz you'r no longer here
But It's too late now coz you'r no longer here
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
I sit here crying in this room
With memories rushing back of you
So many now chances now i blew
There was a million times i could of said i love you
But It's too late now coz you'r no longer here
But It's too late now coz you'r no longer here
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
Im saying it now but i wish i said
Im saying it now but i wish i said
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before said it before
There is no remedy that can entwine
Each day it cripples me that is my crime
Never again again again again again
Never again again again again again
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
Im saying it now but i wish i said
Im saying it now but i wish i said Im saying it now but i wish i said it before
I should of said that i love you
