Control

Patrick Baker

verse
I never thought that I'd fall so fast the way I fell for you but can a fire that burns this brightly last or will we be consumed?cause everytime that I am near you, lady every inhibition falls away let your eyes do the talking, baby there are no words left to saychorus I am losing all control this burning in my soul and I could never stop cuz your love has taken holdI am losing all control and slowly letting go surrender to your touch and let this love unfoldevery minute anticipating when it's the time no hesitating (losing all control your love is taking hold)so divine this love is secret this stuff cannot be recreated (losing all control
let this love unfold)verse I tell myself not to get too close I don't know how this ends and what I deny is what I want the most so I just sink further inCuz I am caught up in these waves of emotion and carried further by the undertow and it all comes crashing down around me it just will not let me gobridge feeling waves of emotion as I'm letting go girl, with you I'm losing all control you fuel the fire that is in my soul I can see that your love has taken hold
