A Single Kiss

Trembling Blue Stars

She's gone and no longer
Feels she'd die without me
The other half of her
She's stopped feeling me to be
She said that she wants me
To consider us over
And tonight it's as though she
She was a dream onlyAs though this world is no world where I'd ever find her
As though she isn't out there
As though there never was a her
As though there never was a herIt's like I never really knew her love
A single kiss, felt her touch
It could be that I never have
Been anything other than
Than what I am
Other than without herTonight it's as though she
Was just some wonderful dream
To think she really happened to me
To think she really
Happened to me
