Love Untold

Paul Westerberg

They were gonna meet, on a rocky mountain street Two bashful hearts beat in advance Their hands were gonna sweat, it was all set She ain't showed up yet, still a good chanceIt's a love untold It's a love untoldChecking on her face, checks his sleeve for his ace And both just in case wear clean underwear Games would be played, excuses would be made The stupid things they said in their prayersOh, about a love untold It's a love untoldSoft hands slowly move across the blank white page Thinking of words for my silent lips and fingers to obeyIt's a love untold It's a love untoldThey were gonna meet on a crummy little street It never came to be, I'm told Does anyone recall the saddest love of all The one that lets you fall, nothing to holdIt's the love untold It's the love untoldOnce upon a love untold Once upon a love untoldOnce upon a love untold Just another love untoldThey were gonna meet on a crummy little street We were gonna meet on a crummy little street
