

Miracle Aligner

The Last Shadow Puppets

Tell him what you want and baby he can find you anything you need

Tell him what you're needing, hey, oh

Come on miracle aligner

Go and get 'em tiger

Get down on your knees

Get down on your knees again oh Fifty feet tall and revved up too high

All of our exchanges are by candle light

I just realized

He'll walk through the walls and creep up behind

Make sense of the maze that you were stuck outside

Cover your eyes Often the humble kind but he can't deny

He was born to blow your mind

Or something along those lines, tonight Tell him what you want and baby he can find you anything you need

Tell him what you're needing, hey, oh

Come on miracle aligner, go and get 'em tiger

Get down on your knees, get down on your knees again, oh oh So what's the wish, he'll make it come true

Simple as a line out of a doo wop tune

He'll make the moves Often the humble kind but he can't deny

He was born to blow your mind

Or something along those lines

Tonight Tell him what you want and baby he can find you anything you need

Tell him what you're needing, hey, oh

Come on miracle aligner, go and get 'em tiger

Get down on your knees, get down on your knees again, oh oh
