Treat the New Guy Right

Silkworm

He came into town that night,
Found himself in a bright light
I followed him around as he searched for a wife
Alone like a wandering Jew,
She said, "Who will protect me from you?"
It was only then, they were playing the foolsIf you run into the night
If you've ever been alone in your life
Motorhead, coming for you
You've gotta, you've gotta treat the new guy right
When you run into the night
If you've ever been alone in your life
Motorhead, coming for you
You've gotta treat the new guy rightNothing could happen so fast
Like in the old days when the atom got smashed
On a flight to Reno, there's no living in the past
She's a red because the bed is on fire
When the plan touched down in new attire
That was just the start of a wild weekendWhen you run into the night
If you've ever been alone in your life
Motorhead is coming for you
You've gotta treat the new guy right
When you run into the night
If you've ever been alone in your life
Motorhead is coming for you
You've gotta, you've gotta treat the new guy right
